Summary and Definitions

Context

The current financial crisis has been called the worst since the Great Depression of the 1930s. All major developed and emerging economies have been hit by this crisis, said to have been triggered by the collapse of the US housing market.

In response to the financial crisis, governments around the world have announced bailout packages to stabilize banks and stimulate the economy.

The Bailout/Stimulus Tracker

This bailout tracker is a log of all bailouts, both firm level and country level, stimulus packages and guarantees announced by governments in response to the financial crisis. It is accompanied by a synopsis of the global financial crisis published by Grail, which describes the timeline of events, causes of the financial crisis, impact on various elements of the global economy, future outlook and potential solutions suggested by key opinion leaders.

It includes the following types of data:

Firm-level Bailouts: Bailout packages announced by governments that target individual firms in the country

Firm-level Guarantee: Guarantee packages, covering debts or asset backed securities, announced by governments targeting individual firms in the country

Country or Regional Bailouts: Larger bailout packages announced by governments to deal with the financial crisis. They are the capital set aside to fund firm-level bailouts, and while they may target an industry or set of industries, they do not target specific firms

Country or Regional Guarantees: Guarantees made by governments to banks and other financial institutions to avoid a 'run on the banks' and renew consumer and business confidence in the financial system. Main types of guarantees include inter-bank lending guarantees and customer deposit guarantees

Country or Regional Stimulus : Stimulus packages announced by governments and other financial institutions to deal with the financial crisis. Most stimulus packages comprise of tax cuts and increased spending announcements by world governments.

Notes: this tracker captures information announced on or after July 31, 2008. There may be significant overlap between the country / regional bailouts and the firm-level bailouts, as the funds from the country or regional bailouts are typically used to fund individual firm-level bailouts. The amounts should not be summed as it will result in double-counting.

To date, the total value of all country or regional bailouts announced by governments is:

$3,564,782,454,323

In addition to these funds, the total value of all country or regional guarantees announced is:

$7,021,694,483,109

To date, the total value of all country or regional stimulus announced by governments is:

$9,462,891,235,674

This tracker and the data are useful to the following types of audiences:

- 1) Policy makers as they consider how to respond to the global financial crisis - it offers benchmark data on similar bailouts and guarantees by other nations around the world
- 2) Companies and lobbyists as they argue for financial support from governments - again, it offers benchmark data on comparable bailouts by country and industry
- 3) Journalists and other stakeholders interested in reporting on the magnitude of this global financial crisis as it unfolds
